MORGAN DEFEATS SALYERSVILLE, OIL SPRINGS, RUSSELL

By RUDY FRANKLIN
Morgan's untameable Blue Devils continued their red hot pace on the hardwood this week as they defeated Salyersville, Oil Springs and Russell in three games.

The Morgan lads were met with much stiffer opposition than what they had expected Thursday night when they motored to Russell for a return match with Russell's much improved Red Devils.

The contest proceeded at a close scoring rate during the first half and as the midway horn sounded the team in Blue found themselves clinging to a 26-22 lead.

During the final half, however, the Morgan quint reassembled their forces and began finding the range more and more often.

The renowned spirit of the Morgan team enabled them to outscore their stubborn foe 38-14 and thus carry away final honors by 64-36. Hill tabbed Morgan scoring honors with 20 points. Blanton was high for the losers with 12.

The Morgan team added victory number 14 the following night as they swamped Oil Springs, surprised Wildcats with the impressive score of 76-44.

The Devils, rated two point underdogs in a pregame shapup, grabbed complete control of the contest following the opening tap-off and were never headed.

Morgan led 19-12 at the first stop, 45-21 at halftime, and 60-29 at the three way mark, before taking the final decision by 32 points, 76-44.

Earl May and Fred Blair led the Morgan point makers with 21 and 17 respectively. Womack led the Wildcats with 12.

OUR PET MEASURE PASSES

Well, the House of Representatives at Frankfort finally passed one of our pet measures—a bill to make the redbud the official state flower of Kentucky to take the place of the goldenrod. Now we urge all true Kentucky senators to pass the measure in the senate, and then we'll lobby for a "Redbud Trail" along US 460 from Lexington to the Big Sandy, and help with a project to make West Liberty "the redbud town of the mountains."

JOHN Y'S METAMORPHOSIS

The usually determined John Young Brown, now State Representative from Fayette county, is becoming lackadaisical, somewhat mellowed here of late. Brown introduced one of the first bills in the legislature this year, an act to impose a 3% sales tax in Kentucky, and then he decided to debate the issue with him. But this week when his bill was called up by a committee for a hearing, John Y. failed for two days to appear in its defense. And early in the session he strenuously opposed a bill to change Kentucky's state flower from the goldenrod to the redbud, but, after a lot of horseplay and quips on the subject, he finally compromised by voting 1/2 vote for the goldenrod and 1/2 for redbud. It is mellowness or is John Y. using this sly method of pointing a finger at the legislature? (Continued on Page Four)

Morgan Recipients Got $344,596 Public Assistance In 1953

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 15—A total of $344,596 was paid to residents of Morgan county in public assistance during 1953 according to a report released today by Commissioner of Economic Security Vego E. Barnes.

Three types of aid—Old-Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to the Needy Blind—are administered through the agency. Total payments in the county distributed among the three types of aid were:

Old Age Assistance, $184,540; Dependent Children, $142,326; Needy Blind, $17,730.

Public assistance payments for the entire year totaled $39,217,165, a $4,000,000 increase over the 1952 total of $35,187,055 and more than double the 1948 total of $17,971,270, when the three programs were consolidated under one agency, the Department of Economic Security.

Each year since the three programs were placed under one agency, there has been a constant increase and more than $177,000,000 has been spent during the time. The increases have been effected due to efforts by the Federal Congress and the Kentucky General Assembly to meet the rising cost of living, according to Barnes.

He reported the average monthly payments last year were—

Old Age Assistance, $34.97 to $55.76; Aid to Dependent Children, $60.88 for each of 19,327 families; and Needy Blind, $36.85 to 2,591 blind recipients.

BURLEY INCOME IS UP TO $2,227,130

Morgan county's cash income from last year's burley tobacco crop reached $2,227,130.07 this week as sporadic checks continued to come in from buyers.

The figures are computed from tobacco checks clearing through the Commercial Bank of West Liberty until the close of business Wednesday.

The $2,227,130.07 has been received by farmers in a total of 3,572 checks clearing so far during the selling season.

On the same date last year, 3,461 checks had cleared for a total of $2,166,759.66. Thus this year's crop already has exceeded complete income from the previous year by $60,360.41.

Though few tobacco checks are coming in now, observers here predict the county's total income from last year's crop will exceed $2 1/2 million dollars.

Morgan's record crop was in 1951 when a total of $2,289,000 in tobacco checks was received.

Among Morgan crops selling for above average prices the past two weeks were—

W. M. Wheeler, Grassy Creek, 39¢, $57.25.

W. J. Craft, Artville, 1300 lbs., $56.99.

Hattie Oney, Florress, 1464 lbs., $57.18.

Carl Cantrell, Ophir, 1800 lbs., $58.75.

C. Phillips, Murphy Fork, 1922 lbs., $61.44; 2010 lbs. $64.39.

UNEMPLOYMENT AREA CITED

The U. S. Employment Service office announced Monday it was recommending to the Bureau of Employment Security of the U. S. Department of Labor that the Huntington, W. Va., metropolitan area be declared a critical unemployment area. The metropolitan area includes Cabell and Wayne counties in West Virginia, Boyd county in Kentucky and Lawrence county in Ohio.

GRAYSON LUMBERMAN DIES

FIVE TEAMS TO BE IN TOURNEY HERE MAR. 3-6

Just five high schools will be represented in the 60th District tournament of the K.H.S.A.A. on March 3 through 6. Since Cannel City high has been consolidated with Morgan County high and the Frenchburg high school has been transferred to District 61, Ezel, Morgan County, Oil Springs, Salyersville, and Sandy Hook are the five remaining teams in District 60.

At a meeting in January representatives drew the following places for the teams in this year's tournament:

1. Ezel
2. Bye
3. Salyersville
4. Bye
5. Sandy Hook
6. Oil Springs
7. Morgan County
8. Bye

This means that Sandy Hook and Oil Springs will play in the first round on Wednesday night, March 3. On the following night Ezel will meet Salyersville. Then on Friday night Morgan County high will play the winner of the Oil Springs-Salyersville game.

The final game is scheduled for Saturday night, March 6, at 7:30. There will be a preliminary game each night between "B" teams from the same schools. The preliminary starts at 6:45 p.m.

Cannel City will be represented in the tournament by a junior high team which will play Salyersville's junior high team on Thursday night in the preliminary game.

Trophies For Winners

Beautiful trophies will be awarded the winners and the runners-up in the tournament. Also there will be a special award to the player who has the highest percentage of successful foul shots during the tournament, providing he has attempted at least ten foul tries.

An all-tournament team will be selected from the tournament and they will receive bronze basketball charms as well as the gold and silver basketball charms the winning teams will receive.

Ellis Johnson of Morehead and Milford Wells of Prestonsburg will be the referees for the tournament. Ted Patrick of Salyersville will be official scorer and Resvie Wheeler of West Liberty the official timer.

Ezel high school is sponsoring the tournament this year and W. A. Heagen is manager.

The admission price for the first three sessions has been reduced to 35c and 75c. The price for Saturday night will remain 50c and $1.00.

The tournament schedule is as follows:

Wednesday, March 3—Sandy Hook and Oil Springs

Thursday, March 4—Ezel and Salyersville

Friday, March 5—West Liberty

Saturday, March 6—Final.

School Representatives

Are Pleased At Work Being Done In County

Supt. Carl Stewart and Ralph Brown, SCF advisor, visited the school at Oak Hill, near Blair Mills last Thursday. They were not able to reach the Paragon school as the road was blocked. Mr. Stewart said that they found only one absent at Blair Mills where Mrs. Hattie Miles is teacher. The attendance was good at Oak Hill. Magazines were given to the schools and an educational film shown.

Tuesday they visited the schools at Peddler Gap and Coffee Creek. Last week Supt. Stewart and Walton Jones visited the Bonny and Pekin schools. Mr. Stewart visited the schools at Mize, Licking River, Caskey Fork, Upper Lick Fork and Centerville. He said he was satisfied with the work being done and that attendance was good for this time of year. Educational films were used at most of the schools. Supt. Stewart and Opa McKenzie visited the school at Vance Fork and commented that it was one of the most comfortable in the county and that the parents have fully contributed and help to make it one of the best. Snoden Johnson is teacher.

4 ON HONOR ROLL

Four Morgan county students were on the honor roll at Morehead College for the first semester. They are: Mrs. Martha T. Cain, West Liberty; Betty Jo Gevedon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Gevedon, West Liberty; Mrs. Loretta King, Cannel City; and Wilma Jean Lewis, who is a member of Pappa Mu, the Coffee Club and the YWCA. Miss Gevedon is a member of the Mystic, Wesley, and Crescendo clubs. She was chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

William F. Conley of Columbus, Ohio was a visitor in the Courier office Saturday.

"Trade, Not Aid" Needed To Solve Eastern Kentucky's Unemployment

Lower Freight Rates,
Improved Navigation
Are Urgently Needed

"Give us trade—not aid; give us jobs—not dole." That was the theme heard at all stops of the recent five-day survey of labor-surplus areas of Eastern Kentucky by representatives of the U. S. Department of Commerce, the state government, and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The U. S. department was represented by two specialists: Victor A. Roterus, chief of the Area Development Division, and his assistant, Gustav Larson. The survey, undertaken to help solve the unemployment situation in Eastern Kentucky, was ordered by Commerce Secretary Weeks after the critical conditions in the area were called to his attention by Kentucky's Congressional delegation and Gov. Wetherby.

After conferring with Governor Wetherby in Frankfort, the team lost no time in hitting the road and meeting with local business and civic leaders. They soon learned of the seriousness of the unemployment and economic conditions in the Kentucky and Big Sandy valleys. No punches were pulled. Names were named. Factors causing the acute conditions were openly discussed.

Most local speakers requested aid in the improvement of Kentucky River, canalization of the Big Sandy, coal purchases by the U. S. Government, improvement of highways and diversification of industries.

The proud people of Eastern Kentucky made it quite clear that it was not their usual custom to request aid from Washington for a solution to their needs. But they insisted that when their families were hungry, without jobs, and in a few isolated cases, stealing (while retailers understand they are cold and hungry, it is difficult to face their problems with cold dollars-and-cents logic.

Alleviation must come and it must come soon.

DAIRY SUPPORTS GO DOWN TO 75%

U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson this week ordered federal price supports of dairy products cut from 90% to 75% of parity on April 1.

Benson has predicted that butter will drop 8 cents a pound after the price-support slash. Retail prices of cheese and powdered milk are also expected to fall.

Benson's action set off a debate in the Senate as Senator Humphries (D) and Senator Anderson (R) led a move to block the order reducing parity supports.

Humphries said the lower support price order would deal a "death blow" to many dairy farmers, and Anderson contended that dairy supports should not be reduced more than 5 points any one year to comply with President Eisenhower's farm message.

One after another farm state senator rose to join in the blasts against the administration's farm program designed to shift from rigid 90% supports to a sliding-scale flexible system.

"A government that can't figure what to do with too much food certainly will never be able to balance the budget," Humphries said.

Senator Kerr (D, Okla.) accused Benson of trying to create "a little scarcity" of farm products rather than an abundance, and declared that the current "little scarcity" in coffee cost U. S. consumers a billion dollars a year.

Low Nicotine Tobacco Varieties Among The County's Best Growers

By Charlie Dixon, County Agent

The stir caused by medical reports on the effect of smoking on the incidence of cancer has helped focus attention upon the nicotine content of tobacco. Certain manufacturers have picked up the idea and capitalized upon it. It is also reported that cigarette manufacturers are using a smaller percentage of burley tobacco and a higher percentage of types that contain less nicotine. As a result the Experiment Stations have checked the average nicotine content of the different varieties of burley tobacco.

Fortunately, the two varieties lowest in nicotine are among our best burley varieties. Ky. 41A is lowest. Ky. 35 is next lowest, containing 4 percent more nicotine than Ky. 41A. All the other Kentucky varieties plus Tennessee No. 1 and No. 2 are at least 10 percent higher than Ky. 41A.

The scientists and Extension workers have suggested that if all burley growers would grow either Ky. 41A or Ky. 35, the whole burley crop would have a lower nicotine content and therefore more of it could and would be used in cigarettes.

Both these varieties have been widely grown in Morgan county. Ky. 41A has been grown by some farmers since it was introduced several years ago. It is very much like Ky. 16. It is moderately resistant to root rot, as much as 16. The leaves droop a little more than 16. It does not sucker as much as 16 and is widely adaptable. The flyings and trash are very light. In ten test plots over the state in 1952, 41A was not included. However, 41A will produce about as much as 16 and of higher quality.

Ky. 35 is widely grown in Morgan county. It first gained prominence because of its great resistance to fusarium wilt, the only variety that is resistant to this disease. Farmers who have the disease should continue to use 35. This variety is also resistant to mosaic disease. It is moderately resistant to black root rot. In the ten tests over the state in 1952, Ky. 35 made the highest yields and returned the most money among six varieties. It produced 1,731 pounds an acre on the average and sold for an average of $1.46 to bring $991.30 an acre.

In these same tests Ky. 16 was second with 1,639 pounds per acre, averaging $52.20 per hundred to bring second highest money of $855.50 per acre. Other varieties tested were 57, 26, Tennessee burley one and Ky. 13-50.

It can be seen that 41A and 35 will do well for Morgan county growers and help the whole burley industry. Fertilizer, particularly over-use of nitrogen, is believed to effect the nitrogen content of any variety. Growers are urged to have their soil tested. See the county agent for instructions and take the sample very carefully. In this way, right amounts of the fertilizer needed can be used.

The House Tuesday refused to give a first reading to a bill to repeal the 1950 law that gives the State a lien against real estate owned by recipients of old-age assistance. A motion made by Rev. H. M. Caudill (D-Whiteburg) required 51 votes to carry, but the motion received only 41 votes, with 13 opposing. Six members were absent and 39 of those present did not vote on the matter.

Democrats in this area voting to have the bill its first reading were Lacy of Morgan, Hicks Wells of Frenchburg, Stumbo of Floyd. Democrats of this section present but not voting included Majority Leader Harry King Lowman of Boyd, Wells of Louisa.

PMA PERFORMANCE REPORT DUE MAR. 1

The time for accepting Kentucky farmers' performance reports on conservation practices carried out in the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program has been extended to March 1, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation state committee announced here today.

Receipts for materials used are required as a part of farmers' reports on practices carried out in the 1953 program, which closed Dec. 31.

On materials supplied through the ACP—such as lime, phosphate, and cover crop seeds—a report is required whether a payment is due the farmer or not.

The original closing date for reports on 1953 practices in the program was February 15, but a two week extension has been granted because of the heavy workload at this time on acreage allotments and other programs.

About 140,000 Kentucky farmers participated in the program last year. A record total of 179,356 enrolled but it is estimated that about 20 percent did not adopt approved practices.

ONLY TWO JURY TRIALS IN COURT HERE THIS WEEK

Grand Jury Has Filed Seventeen
Indictments Here

Only two cases have reached juries for decision at the present term of Morgan circuit court which was convened here Monday by Judge John A. Keck of Sandy Hook.

A criminal case charging possession of liquor resulted in a jury acquittal for the defendant. The other was a civil case in which a jury returned a judgment of $1,937.50 in favor of the plaintiff, J. F. Bradley against Willard and Eliza Bradley, defendants.

Nine civil actions were settled without the intervention of a jury.

After a three day session, the court recessed Wednesday noon until next Monday when two cases, J. F. Bradley vs. Willard and Eliza Bradley, will be tried for grand larceny and the other for child desertion.

Until Thursday morning the grand jury had returned only 17 indictments. Five were for child desertion, two for grand larceny, two for embezzlement, one for petit larceny, two for assault and battery, and the remainder for drunkenness or possessing whiskey.

The $31,500 damage suit against the Licking Valley R.E.A. in the accidental death of D. O. Carpenter of Woodsbend was continued until the May term. Carpenter was accidentally electrocuted as he was lowering the boom of his water well drilling rig at Florress last November. The boom, it is alleged, came in contact with an R.E.A. electric line.

M. T. Williams is serving as foreman of the grand jury. Other grand jurors are G. C. Lykins, Lucian Keeton, Robert Fletcher, Chess Dyer, Hazel Young, Burgess Nickell, Joe Kane, Joe Allen, Astor Barker, Clarence Taulbee and J. D. Benton.

Visiting attorneys at the court this week were Judge A. N. Cisco of Ashland, J. Woodford Howard of Prestonsburg, Robert Leslie of Lexington and Earl Cooper of Salyersville.

The term is expected to be adjourned early next week.

SCOUT FUND DRIVE SET FOR SATURDAY

A solicitation to raise funds to continue scouting and Cub Scouting in Morgan county will be continued Saturday afternoon of this week from 1 to 3 o'clock by 36 persons interested in the Boy Scout movement. The quota is $400.

The Boy Scout troop here and the Cub Scout packs are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. The drive for funds is headed by H. D. Potter, and the Kiwanians and 14 mothers of Cub Scouts will conduct the solicitation.

Scouting is an organization for youth to promote good citizenship and morals, and deserves support of everyone.

Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "I firmly believe that the Boy Scout movement represents a new kind of moral force in America... the racketeer and the gangster go out the window when scouting comes in the door." J. Edgar Hoover said, "If all young Americans would adopt the Scout Oath and Scout Law as their guiding principles, there would be no such thing as juvenile delinquency in our nation. We would have nothing to fear from foreign 'isms' because their ideals are diametrically opposed to those of the Boy Scouts of America."

EXCAVATING BRONG LOT
Alonzo Elam this week let a contract to Ruth Bros. to remove earth down to street level from the Brong lot at the corner of Main and Prestonsburg streets here. The lot is 100x150 feet and one of the best business locations in town. The Brong home was razed some weeks ago. Elam said he has not yet decided what type of building will be erected on the lot.

WRIGLEY PIE SOCIAL
On Friday, Feb. 5, Wrigley school held a pie supper to help pay for the curtain on the auditorium stage. M. B. Whit was the auctioneer and Claude Wells played the fiddle. Avonelle Kinner was voted prettiest girl and Bernie Dyer won the ugly man contest. Gross proceeds amounted to $160.

DON'T PRAY FOR CHICKENS

From a column by Leo Aikman
in the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

The two men were prospectors. But they were looking for neither silver nor gold, oil nor uranium.

One was a man with a factory looking for a place to put it. The other was a fellow who had an idea of where to look.

As they passed through one small town, the manufacturer said, "Stopping here would waste our time. I can see we wouldn't like it." He pointed to the lots grown up in weeds, to the shabby store fronts and the unlettered streets.

The two men came to a town which was a possibility. "Yes," said the spokesmen for the community, "we need an industry. Indeed we'd like to have one."

The man with the factory started asking questions. What about a building site? The tax structure? The labor pool?

The committee didn't know. The community wanted an industry, but it wasn't ready with the answers. It was a shame, too. The town is in a county which by 1950 had lost one in every five of its 1940 population. There must be new ways to make a living if the decline is to be checked.

The two men in search of a factory site went

Around The Family Circle

DR. ADOLPHUS GILLIAM

IS ANYBODY HAPPY?

Two people sat down across a table in the pastor's study and enumerated a lot of their problems. Then after much time had been spent the question came directly to the preacher, "Say, preacher, do you believe that there is a happy person anywhere?" That is a very pointed question and I would like to answer it in the very beginning by saying that there are some happy folk. Now that does not mean that anybody is happy in the terms of somebody else's interpretation or definition of it. Really the question comes back to the point that we ought to think,

"Why are we here anyhow? Why was I born?" I came here without being consulted, and you came into the world and nobody consulted you. We have had a lot said about life all the way down from the time there has been any record of mankind. We have had a lot of philosophy given, a lot of guidance by great prophets, priests, kings, philosophers; they have been telling in general and specific ways something about how to conduct life. What has it all been about anyhow? What to the hills.

"I like the looks of this place," the industrialist said, as they pulled into a small county seat town.

The looks were not deceiving. The house was in order. The wick was trimmed and burning, and the lamp was in the window.

The development committee showed the prospect acreage available for his plant. Sewerage, water and power lines ran to the site. Yes, the committee knew a contractor who would take on the construction job. They knew for how much a square foot. The labor statistics were ready.

It was a quick sale. The plant was formally opened this month. And it was like the first olive out of the bottle. The next industry is under contract.

It brings you back to the experience of the old Negro "Efen I prays to the Lord to send me a chicken, I neber gets muh chicken. But efen I prays to the Lord to send me after a chicken, I most nearly always gits one." It's the same way with a factory and a factory payroll.

is it for? Is it just a thing we do in order to have something to say, or is there a goal, is there something still further on that we have not attained, that we just intuitively and instinctively do by telling our friends how to find it and by suggesting to our own lives, our own minds, what we are to do about it?

The Master of men, to me the example of mankind and the revelation of all that is holy and good and fine, said this to us, "I have come that you might have life, that my joy might remain in you, that your joy may be full; and I bring to you this kind of joy, this kind of peace, not the kind the world gives, but that kind the world does not quite know." The God who made us wants us to enjoy life and be happy, and I believe that this is the desire of a good God. I will confess to you that there are not too many people happy. But why are they not happy; why are they going around in circles and disturbances and confusion and anger and hate and malice and fears? Why all of this anyhow?

So we do have to contend with this that pushes us out but remember that instinct never gives us advice. There is another thing with which mankind is born, another faculty and that makes him akin to his God. That is the faculty of reasoning. When you put reason and instinct together you have a marvelous pair. You have two of the greatest teachers and workers that man has ever known and that God could ever give to mankind. You know it is very seldom that we consult reason. That is why you will find that people who have messed up their lives, who are unhappy even though the circumstances around them seem to be good, have not sat down with this teacher that we call Mr. Reason, if you please, and talked with him about the things they are going to do and weighed its value to see where it is leaning. It is the ability of the human mind to lay its pattern, watch its blueprints, mark them out plainly, and then by energetic striving and hard work build the thing that they desire. Have you known, and let me ask the question for those who have asked me over and over, a person who was honestly sensible in his activities, who is not lazy but alive, alert, moving as the time moves him on, doing the things that good sound judgment and reason have instructed, and everything that he could find that would help him to do it, do you find that kind of person very unhappy? The truth is you are going to find more of the calmness of life there. Let me give you an example of One who told us what to do and that was the One that I believe with all sincerity was happy. He had life, He had no place to lay His head, He said, He had no titles to anything of material gain but He had a wealth of peace, peace that passeth all understanding. He set the example and asked us to follow that way if we wanted to find peace. (Continued next week)

BIG SANDY OR LEVISA?

Floyd county's venerable State Senator Doug Hays Wednesday introduced a bill in the legislature to change the name of the Levisa fork of Big Sandy to the Big Sandy River. Actually, the Big Sandy now extends only from Catlettsburg 32 miles north to Louisa where it divides into the Tug and Levisa forks. Tug, the lesser fork, divides Kentucky and West Virginia. Levisa extends on north through Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Pikeville and beyond, and its Russell Fork is the stream that flows through the Breaks of Sandy, soon to be a park site. Levisa is a corruption of Louisa, the original name given the stream by the early explorer Dr. Walker in honor of the daughter of the Duke of Cumberland. Nobody calls the river Levisa, even though it is so named on the maps. All residents in its watershed are termed Big Sandians. So, why not name the river Big Sandy? Senator Doug is to be listened to on this measure.

Tobacco varieties low in nicotine content are getting the bid from cigarette manufacturers, and recent publicity concerning the part nicotine has in causing cancer brings to mind the thought: that cancer-producing causes, and ultimately cures, might be found in our soils. It is no secret that years before the discovery of penicillin, some tribes in Africa were treating wounds and infections with soil on which was found penicillin producing mold. More secrets than this world dreams of are locked in clods of dirt and whorls of dust.

FOOD FOR THE NEEDY

Experts of the U. S. Department of Interior who toured the coal counties of Eastern Kentucky last week to get a firsthand picture of unemployment and suffering there, will recommend two objectives—improvement of waterways, and building of more roads, it has been reported here. Their report is due in about three weeks. We hope it will bring immediate action. Over and over again, community leaders told the federal visitors that the area needed relief immediately for some of the families now suffering for want of food, etc. This relief can be provided by the Commodity Credit Corporation from stocks of foodstuff accumulated under the price support program. It can be done immediately and it will put to good use some of the surplus the government has been branding as "criminal."

West Liberty's main street and a block on Prestonsburg street were given a scrubbing Sunday morning by city officials and workers. And the cleanliness is appreciated by everyone.

A hatchery is contracting Grayson county eggs through June, July, August and September for 80 cents a dozen.

Campton Man Tells Kiwanis Members of Red River Watershed

Morris Caudill of Campton talking to members of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday evening said the purpose of the Red River watershed was to help prevent floods and the objective is to get all the land in growing crops or timber to slow water runoff and prevent silt filling up the streams. It is estimated that when completed it will lower the flood stage at least three feet, and that 60,000 acres of land is included in the shed.

This is one of 63 such projects in the United States and has been approved and the survey is now being made. Visitors at the club were Bernard Buchanan of West Liberty and Stanley Bishop of Index. President Wendell Nickell was in charge.

VISITS CENTERVILLE SCHOOL

When Bernard E. Whitt visited the Centerville school, where Mrs. Irene Terrell is teaching, there were seventeen children present of the twenty-three enrolled. Ben Frank Steele and family moved to Florida. Cletis Stacy moved from Index to Centerville and Arthur Ross from Mussel Shoals to Centerville.

Rella Maines plans to go to high school this fall. They had a pie supper and bought a desk, ball, bat and other playground equipment. Darrell Nickell has perfect attendance.

KILLED IN WRECK

Vestil Farmer of Cincinnati was killed in a car wreck last week and his wife Oza Whitt Farmer was seriously injured and is in a Cincinnati hospital. Their car collided with a train near Cincinnati. They formerly lived on the Jim Whitt farm near Morgan and Magoffin line. Stanley Oney of White Oak saw the wreckage after the accident.

Combs have been found among the remains of ancient people, including Swiss cliff dwellers.

Warren M. Wells formerly of Mize who has been a member of the department at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base since August of 1944, recently was commended by Lt. Gen. E. W. Rawlings, commander of Wright-Patterson AFB and two other officers for the quick work his unit did in extinguishing a fire on a B-17 that landed at the base in flames Jan. 13.

In addition to Lt. Gen. Rawlings, the commendations were from Col. Paul L. Barton and Maj. J. Sarthoff. The plane was brought to the base from a trip to Washington when it caught fire shortly before landing, said Gen. Rawlings: "Your unit put out the fire on the B-17 in which I was a passenger the night of Jan. 13. Foam was being put on the fire within 2 minutes of the alarm, this in spite of the fact the aircraft stopped 1½ miles from the location of the fire equipment. This speedy action no doubt prevented the plane from exploding and speaks well of the training of your fire department."

Wells is a son of B. B. Wells of Mize and a grandson of S. B. Bryant of Mize. He is a veteran of World War II.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS By Ann Franklin Stevens Home Demonstration Agent Spring Fashions

What could be more fun than to sit before a late winter fire and dream of spring clothes? If you want to join the spring fashion parade start now to plan what you need, want and what will do the most for you.

Bright butterfly colors are leading the parade this year. They are shocking shades of pink, turquoise blue and apricot to red orange. White, dark navy, black and yellow are also good. White is being worn much earlier this year.

Coats, either long or short, are narrow this spring. Lines are straighter and slimmer. Lengths vary from waist line to full length. There are many coats with seven-eighths sleeves and some are actually short.

High rise waistlines are being noticed in the new suit jackets. Jackets are shorter and skirts mostly slim with pleats giving walking ease to many skirts. Two-toned wadded tweeds, crisp silk and wool blends, pure silk or rayon nubby textures, and soft crepe weaves offer a wide variety of fabrics to choose from. You will be in style if you use a white trim on your suit jacket, too.

Dresses are simple and figure flattering. Some are being worn without a belt.

In general skirts are shorter for spring but proportion your skirt length to the most flattering length.

Little hats are being worn straight forward on the head. Pill box hats are leading the parade. The teardrop shape is popular in bags and the larger the bag the more stylish it is. Black patent will be seen a lot.

Short wrist length gloves will be used by those leading the spring fashions and in pale colors. You can be sure of riding in high style when you join the Easter parade if you—

1. Choose butterfly colors.

2. Have a high rise waistline.

3. Wear a hat straight forward on the brow.

CHURCH OBSERVES YOUTH DAY HERE

Last Sunday, Feb. 14, was observed as Youth Sunday by the local Christian church. Young people had complete charge of the morning worship service.

The call to worship and invocation were given by Delores Rudd. Mabel Helton gave the communion and offertory meditations. Garry Lee Elam and Merle Nickell served as elders.

Ethel Rudd and Betty Tyler served as deacons. Gay Easterling read the Scripture lesson.

Danny Joe Howard, Hazel Green youth, brought the morning prayer and the message. His topic was, "God Speaks—Listen—Answer." The text was from I Samuel telling of the experience of the boy Samuel answering the call of God. Danny is a Freshman in Transylvania University, Lexington.

The benediction was given by Mrs. Catherine Walton, teacher of the Young People's Bible class. Mary K. Blevins was the organist.

The service was conducted in a very worshipful manner. All present felt that God was using the youth to speak to them.

Morgan Man Commended At Wright-Patterson AFB

Warren M. Wells formerly of Mize who has been a member of the department at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base since August of 1944, recently was commended by Lt. Gen. E. W. Rawlings, commander of Wright-Patterson AFB and two other officers for the quick work his unit did in extinguishing a fire on a B-17 that landed at the base in flames Jan. 13.

In addition to Lt. Gen. Rawlings, the commendations were from Col. Paul L. Barton and Maj. J. Sarthoff. The plane was brought to the base from a trip to Washington when it caught fire shortly before landing, said Gen. Rawlings: "Your unit put out the fire on the B-17 in which I was a passenger the night of Jan. 13. Foam was being put on the fire within 2 minutes of the alarm, this in spite of the fact the aircraft stopped 1½ miles from the location of the fire equipment. This speedy action no doubt prevented the plane from exploding and speaks well of the training of your fire department."

Wells is a son of B. B. Wells of Mize and a grandson of S. B. Bryant of Mize. He is a veteran of World War II.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS By Ann Franklin Stevens Home Demonstration Agent Spring Fashions

What could be more fun than to sit before a late winter fire and dream of spring clothes? If you want to join the spring fashion parade start now to plan what you need, want and what will do the most for you.

Bright butterfly colors are leading the parade this year. They are shocking shades of pink, turquoise blue and apricot to red orange. White, dark navy, black and yellow are also good. White is being worn much earlier this year.

Coats, either long or short, are narrow this spring. Lines are straighter and slimmer. Lengths vary from waist line to full length. There are many coats with seven-eighths sleeves and some are actually short.

High rise waistlines are being noticed in the new suit jackets. Jackets are shorter and skirts mostly slim with pleats giving walking ease to many skirts. Two-toned wadded tweeds, crisp silk and wool blends, pure silk or rayon nubby textures, and soft crepe weaves offer a wide variety of fabrics to choose from. You will be in style if you use a white trim on your suit jacket, too.

Dresses are simple and figure flattering. Some are being worn without a belt.

In general skirts are shorter for spring but proportion your skirt length to the most flattering length.

Little hats are being worn straight forward on the head. Pill box hats are leading the parade. The teardrop shape is popular in bags and the larger the bag the more stylish it is. Black patent will be seen a lot.

Short wrist length gloves will be used by those leading the spring fashions and in pale colors. You can be sure of riding in high style when you join the Easter parade if you—

1. Choose butterfly colors.

2. Have a high rise waistline.

3. Wear a hat straight forward on the brow.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NEED EDUCATIONAL WORK ON TB PROBLEMS

The Courier—

I am enclosing a copy of the tentative draft for House Bill No. 149. There were a few slight changes made in this Bill but at the present time we do not have any of the final copies.

I was interested to read your editorial and also your letter appearing in the Courier-Journal. I certainly agree with you that compulsory isolation of tuberculosis patients is not a desirable thing and firmly believe that it will contribute very little to the over-all tuberculosis program.

There are a few individuals, however, who have refused to cooperate with hospital personnel and with their local health department staff and who may be benefited by such a Bill. In any event, the passage of such legislation is an admission that our tuberculosis control program is not achieving the desired goal and, therefore, is an admission of failure. The Kentucky Tuberculosis Association has not endorsed the Bill as an organization since our Board of Directors has not met since the final legislation was drawn up. As a member of a Coordinating Council composed of representatives from the Kentucky State Medical Society, the Kentucky State Department of Health, The Kentucky Tuberculosis Hospital Commission, we have approved the proposed legislation.

If you saw the letter in the Courier-Journal which I wrote in answer to your letter, I think you will find the information regarding cost of hospital treatment, etc. quite different from what existed a few years ago.

I am delighted to know of your interest in the tuberculosis program and I hope that we may have an opportunity of working with you in our educational activities. We are convinced that through a well informed public we can achieve a great deal more than will ever be possible through any kind of legislation. If we can be of any assistance to you in any way please feel free to call on us.

Executive Secretary
Ky. Tuberculosis Assn.

READY FOR FISH STORIES

The Courier—

I sure enjoy reading the home paper. It is a pleasure to me to come back to West Liberty and see my many friends. It will soon be time for Bernard Whitt to begin his fish stories. So hurry up, I will be looking for them.

From an old Morgan county friend.

FROM GERMANY

The Courier—

It has been some time since I wrote you last. I am now in the Inspectors Department of the Postal Branch in the headquarters of the U. S. Army Europe, located in Heidelberg, Germany.

Since I will be traveling a lot in my new job I will have an opportunity to see some of the very beautiful places in Germany and will be glad to send you some of the pictures I am planning on taking, if you would like them.

INDUSTRY PRODUCTION OFF

Industrial production over the nation dipped two points on the Federal Reserve index in January. This compares with a fall of three points in December and two in November. Down to 125, the index compares with 134 in January 1953. However, the Reserve board noted that at 125, the index was higher than for any other January of the post-war period, except January 1953. The standing of 125 means that output of factories and mines was 25 per. above production in the years 1947 through 1949, used as a base.

ing, etc., as I had been away from good old Morgan a number of years. It sure was a treat of my life to meet so many old friends and neighbors. I never expected to see my father's name in a paper any more and to my surprise J. F. Lykins, my father, W. W. Webb's names appeared in it.

Since being alone, I enjoy the home paper all the more.

KNOW YOUR RED CROSS

Walter Franklin, chairman of the local chapter, states that the Red Cross chapter has two primary responsibilities that it must carry on to fulfill the basic obligations of the congressional charter. These are (1) service to servicemen, veterans and their dependents; and (2) disaster preparedness and relief.

Before any other type of assistance or program can be given to the people of Morgan county the above obligations have to be carried out. The 1933 Fund campaign fell short of its goal, making it only possible with the help of the national organization to carry out the above responsibilities.

If the next campaign is more successful and adequate funds are available, assistance to civilians may be rendered, but until that time only families who fall under the above qualifications are eligible for Red Cross assistance.

GRASSY CREEK—

MORGAN NATIVE DIES IN OKLA.

GRASSY CREEK, Ky., Feb. 15.—(By J. M. Gevedon)—S. M. Ferguson informs us that he had a recent letter stating that his cousin, Ollie Havens had died at Shawnee, Oklahoma, on November 19, 1933. Ollie was a son of John Sam and Sarah J. Vest Havens, born and raised at Grassy Creek. In his early life he went to Oklahoma and took up railroading, from which he retired a short time before his death. He was related to several families in this section.

L. O. Adams and daughter Faye of Nickell, Mr. and Mrs. Bernham Gevedon and son Jimmy and Mele Gevedon of Panama were visiting with the Deward Adams family Sunday and stopped for awhile with Aunt Jeston. Our neighbor, Silas Ferguson, took dinner with us Sunday and Junior Elam, Florress, was here for awhile Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rella Canoy of Scranton was here Sunday to see her grandmother, Aunt Jeston, and her mother, Mrs. Dell Gevedon, who has been on the sick list with a cold.

Carpenters are at work on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Haney.

ATTEND BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE 16th

Four workers of the West Liberty Baptist church attended a regional Sunday school conference in Ashland Tuesday, Feb. 16. They were: the pastor, Rev. Gordon Duncan, Sunday School Supt. Charlie Dixon, older women's teacher, Mrs. C. S. Wells; Nursery leader, Mrs. Thelma Carver. Mrs. Carver also visited her brother in Ashland. Mrs. Wells called briefly on her cousin. The West Liberty folk reported a most informative and inspirational meeting.

Thirty-four farmers in Marshall county have placed orders for 45,600 loblolly pine seedlings. An outbreak of air-sack disease disrupted production of broiler chickens in Cumberland county.

BASKETBALL

 All Salyersville-Morgan affairs, turned out to be one of the most thrilling battles ever displayed by the two teams. Although Salyersville had handed the Devils a 32 point licking earlier in the season, the Morgan lads had improved steadily and after trouncing Oil Springs the preceding Friday night, they definitely looked ready.

Unlike the previous game, the Morgan team as a result of fine rebounding by Hill and May, took a slight edge over the Hornets and ran the margin to 15-8 as the opening quarter elapsed.

The Hornets fought back steadily during the second period, however, and cut the lead to 4, 25-21, as the half ended.

The third period saw tension grow tighter and the score grew closer with the visiting Devils taking a 36-34 lead at the three-quarter rest. The hectic fourth quarter was one to be remembered. Through the most of the quarter the score saw-sawed between the two fighting teams with neither able to gain more than a three point advantage. The Morgan doom seemed certain when in the final five seconds of the fray, Lincoln Collingsworth, Salyersville's all-state candidate, sank two successive free throws to give the Hornets a 52-50 lead.

The Devils' fighting spirit never died. Stacey made a quick pass in to McKenzie who in turn relayed it up the floor to May. Then with two dribbles and a gigantic leap the 6 foot 5 forward laid the ball calmly in the net just as the final gun sounded.

The game officially ended at 52 and during the resulting overtime period the Devils continued their fighting spirit and outscored the Hornets 9-4, thus carrying away the final count by 61-56.

Earl May showed the scoring way for Morgan, caging 19 counters. Collingsworth led the Hornets with 27.

The Devils will entertain 10th ranking Meade Memorial here Friday night and then travel to Inez Tuesday. Although the Devils lost to both earlier in season play, they have now won 12 of their last 14 outings and should make things interesting for both teams.

OBITUARY

KASH

On January 27, 1934, Caleb Stephen Kash suddenly and quietly passed away at the home of his son, Dr. Roy Mason Kash in Mt. Sterling. He resided in the home where he was born, a son of James and Elizabeth Dennis Kash on Feb. 8, 1884.

His influence in the community has been far reaching through his efforts for the establishment of the school and church in Ezel.

Those left to mourn his loss are his wife Georgeanne Carpenter Kash; one son, Dr. Roy Mason Kash, Mt. Sterling; four daughters, Mrs. Rena Pattison and Mrs. Opal Craft, both of Middletown, Ohio; Mrs. Altha Nickell, Flemingsburg, Ky.; and Mrs. Elizabeth Reid, Winchester, Ky.; 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren, besides a great many neighbors and friends.

Fitting to his life are the words of Alfred Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar."

Sunset and evening star,
 and one clear call for me!
 And may there be no moaning
 of the bar
 When I put out to sea.
 But such a tide as moving seems asleep
 Too full for sound and foam,
 When that which drew from out the boundless deep
 Turns again home.
 Twilight and evening bell,
 And after that the dark!
 And may there be no sadness of farewell
 When I embark.

UNEMPLOYMENT

 Some bright spots were uncovered in the Eastern Kentucky area. Many communities, confronted with unemployment, are planning short and long range programs of self-improvement. Some are subscribing to building funds to house industry. Eastern Kentuckians are cooperating more and new leadership is springing up. There is a tendency to try to overcome obstacles at the local level where possible. It may be likened to a family being drawn together during a crisis.

The Eastern Kentucky survey was enlightening. If no more, it has brought to light the area's dire economic conditions. At most, it will bring work to the unemployed through removal of the area's roadblocks and stimulate corrective measures by business and government agencies.

The findings of the survey will be reported to Secretary of Commerce Weeks. Then what will happen? If the Eastern Kentucky survey is to be beneficial, it must be placed in the hands of the proper authorities—the men who can make specific recommendations for action.

For though from out our bourne of time and place,
 The flood may bear me far
 I hope to see my pilot face to face,
 When I have crossed the bar.

WOODSBEND

(By Eve May)

Feb. 15—Mrs. Lizzie Ratliff has been confined to her room the past week with measles. She is feeling better.

Little Johnny Karol Taulbee, first grade pupil and nephew of Mrs. Harvey Ratliff, has rheumatic fever.

Aunt Sarah May is ill with influenza. J. B. May, Sr. at St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington, is feeling a little better.

Mrs. Phyllis Gose Harris has gone to Washington, D. C. Her husband Pfc. Albert Harris has completed basic training in the Marines at Parris Island, S. C. and has been assigned duty in Washington, Pfc. Harris was a graduate of Berea college prior to his induction.

Revs. Berry Peyton, Carter Gibbs and others are conducting services this week at Woodsbend school.

Mrs. Harve Sheets was in Lexington this week for a physical checkup.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vest of Dayton, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Esta Gunnell, Donald and Valerie were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Carpenter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Cecil, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson of West Liberty were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Ollie Carpenter and Martha Gevedon.

Bill May is probably the first farmer in the county to sow tobacco beds.

Pulaski county homemakers plan to weave seats of Hong Kong grass in cherry and walnut stools made by local woodworking shops.
